

ESTABLISHING LOAD WEIGHT

You will need to assess the materials you are working with to figure out the best way to handle it.

Once you know the weight of the materials you need to make sure the grader has the capacity to shift it safely.

Considerations as to the type of traction, water content and angle of the blade during the task must be made to ensure safe operations.

